

Lindsay Autry

Chef Lindsay Autry is the co-partner and chef of THE REGIONAL Kitchen in West Palm Beach and Honeybelle at the PGA resort in Palm Beach

Autry's exceptional skills in the kitchen have earned her the reputation of one of America's top chefs, and provided her the opportunity to work alongside some of the best in the world. Chef Autry has held various chef positions at prominent restaurants on the East Coast and in Mexico and made headlines as a finalist on Bravo's ninth season of "Top Chef." As a native North Carolinian, Chef Autry describes her cuisine as soulful, embracing Mediterranean flavors with a blend of her southern roots.

Currently, Chef Autry resides in West Palm Beach and is co-partner and founder of the culinary hot spot, THE REGIONAL Kitchen & Public House, which opened its doors in September 2016. Lindsay recently opened up Honeybell at the PGA Resort in Palm Beach. In 2018 and 2019, Chef Autry received James Beard nominations for Best Chef: South. THE REGIONAL was named "#1 Best Restaurant in Palm Beach County in 2016" by The Palm Beach Post.
